

Collecting ideas for summaries

Write down your ideas for answering the following questions:

Which text would I like to write about? What is the first thing I think of?

Which arguments from this text could be particularly interesting to my readers?

Which connections to other texts can I see?

Which questions remain for me after reading it? What did I find difficult in the text?

