Many different funding opportunities!

Several programmes fund research-related mobility for PhD students depending on a student's

- status (enrolled vs. employed)
- envisaged duration of mobility (short vs. long-term)
- envisaged activity (research vs. study vs. teaching)
- target country (inner-European vs. extra-European)

Funding lines have different goals,
funding volumes/categories and criteria

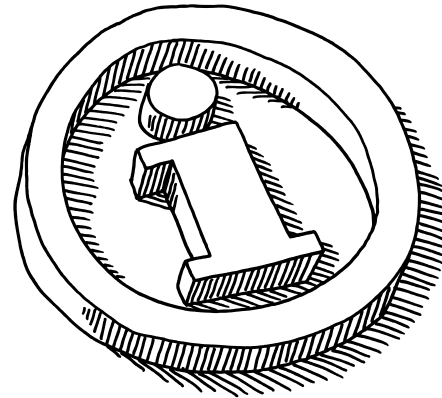

→ this is why we offer this info session,
providing information in a nutshell

(always consult the information offered by scholarship providers!)

Erasmus+ Programme

The programme has expanded drastically over the years:

Erasmus+ Programme

Disclaimer:

Offers many opportunities and has included options for research-related mobility as well.

Which funding lines a university offers to its members, depends on the availability of funds.

Sometimes, certain programme lines cannot be offered at all, others with restrictions to meet the demand and limited budget.
