What is the ERUA Winter School 2022 about?

The ERUA Winter School "European Identities" is designed for 25-30 Master students who seek to learn about discourses regarding transnational concepts and perspectives on European identities. In an interdisciplinary seminar, workshops and group projects, participants will receive an overview of the historical, political, and cultural framework of European integration and discuss recent challenges European society is facing, such as the aftermath of the pandemic, political fragmentation and radicalization, immigration, and social inequalities.

The question of a collective European identity and how it is shaped by present developments will be a guiding thread for this Winter School.

How can you teach at the ERUA Winter School 2022?

Featuring a highly interdisciplinary topic that combines all social sciences and humanities, we welcome intensive course proposals from all disciplines. We are also open to new and innovative teaching formats including co-teaching, hybrid or virtual teaching, film screenings, panel discussions, ted talks etc.

The language of the Winter School is English.

The Winter School will be held from February 11th to February 18th 2022 at the University of Konstanz.

Travel and accommodation costs can be covered by Erasmus+ Teaching Staff Mobility. All lecturers will receive a teaching certificate and free admission to all cultural excursions.

Are you interested in becoming a lecturer at the ERUA Winter School 2022?

Send a CV and short teaching proposal (max. 500 words) to alina.2.stockloev@uni-konstanz.de. Submission Deadline: November 30, 2021.

What is ERUA?

The "European Reform University Alliance" consists of five young European reform universities from Bulgaria, Denmark, France, Germany and Greece that have joined forces to form a transnational university network with common values and goals in research, teaching and institutional development. ERUA is part of the European Universities Initiative (EUI) of the European Commission.
